

A long-exposure photograph of the Los Angeles skyline at night. The Walt Disney Concert Hall, with its iconic metallic, undulating facade, is the central focus in the foreground. Behind it, several tall skyscrapers are lit up, their windows glowing against the dark blue twilight sky. In the lower-left corner, light trails from cars on a busy street create a sense of motion. The overall scene is vibrant and captures the energy of the city.

Dear Friends:

Welcome to Los Angeles. A dynamic, ever-evolving destination that's set against a backdrop of authenticity, optimism, and the unexpected, a place where our rich ethnic and cultural diversity is celebrated throughout the city's distinct neighborhoods. We invite you to be a free spirit here, to be different, to be bold, and to have fun.

Be ready to become passionately inspired with creativity at nearly every turn. The birthplace of Hollywood and the epicenter of entertainment, Los Angeles has long served as a beacon for dreamers and innovators. It's why the world's greatest artists, entertainers, movers, and shakers call L.A. home. Our unrivaled talent pool of thought leaders and intellectual capital spans several sectors including entertainment, technology, aerospace, international trade, medical, biotech, and more. Simply put, there's no better destination in which to connect individually and innovate collectively.

Think of Los Angeles as your very own blank canvas for any type of meeting or event with thousands upon thousands of only-in-L.A. venues that can seamlessly bring your creative vision to life. From restored classic theaters, real-working movie studios, and botanical gardens to storied cultural institutions and prestigious Hollywood awards venues, the variety here is endless. Explore our vibrant mosaic of cultures through the city's culinary landscape, which features an incredible breadth of worldly cuisines including Mexican, Korean, Chinese, Middle Eastern, Japanese, and more.

The next decade will bring the world's biggest sporting events to Los Angeles—the 2020 Major League Baseball All Star Game, the 2022 Super Bowl, the 2023 College Football Playoff National Championship, the 2026 Fédération Internationale de Football Association World Cup, and the 2028 Summer Olympics. Each of these mega events will not only create a special buzz across the city, but will also present a unique opportunity for meeting delegates to bond over a shared, once-in-a-lifetime experience.

As the sports and entertainment capital of the world, we're ready to roll out our signature red carpet for your next meeting or event, whether it's an intimate gathering, a large-scale convention, or anything in between. No matter what you choose to do, I hope you create treasured memories in our City of Angels.

With best wishes,

Ernie

sports capital of the world, too

Add 10 major league professional teams and a lineup of blockbuster sporting events to the city's buzzing entertainment, restaurant, and cultural scenes and you get one unforgettable destination.

Oh, sports fans—and everyone else—what a decade this will be in Los Angeles! Even in the course of an ordinary year, the City of Angels is host to a professional baseball team (the Dodgers, whose games draw the largest attendance in Major League Baseball), three professional basketball teams (the Lakers, the Clippers, and the Sparks), two professional soccer teams (the LA Galaxy and the Los Angeles Football Club), a professional hockey team (the Kings), and two professional football teams (the Rams and the Chargers). In addition, UCLA and USC field teams in many sports (and provided gridiron fans someone to root for during the 20 years pro football was MIA here).

But the thrills of an ordinary season in these sports can't compare to what's coming up on the calendar: the MLB All-Star Game in 2020, the NCAA Men's West Regional Basketball Championship in 2020, the Super Bowl in 2022, the College Football Playoff National Championship in 2023, the U.S. Open golf tournament in 2023, FIFA World Cup™ matches in 2026, and the Summer Olympics in 2028. Going forward, when someone mentions Los Angeles, along with entertainment and the fabulous weather, sports will be in the conversation.

Having celebrities in town has always generated media buzz, but how did L.A. come to be a mecca for major sporting events? "Part of the attraction is that people want to come somewhere that's fun," notes Kathryn Schloessman, president of the Los Angeles Sports & Entertainment Commission (LASEC). However, she adds, two contributing factors changed everything: First, AEG built STAPLES Center and L.A. LIVE in Downtown. "Everyone used to say, 'We'll never go Downtown,'" says Schloessman, "but the Lakers made a difference." People did come and the restaurant scene grew as well, and Downtown has been transformed.

"Second, the NFL came back to L.A.," Schloessman says, "and [Rams' owner Stan

Banc of California Stadium

Kroenke, a real estate developer] is building the L.A. Stadium in Inglewood,” with an adjacent 300-acre entertainment district. “Even before he got approval to bring the Rams, [Kroenke] saw an opportunity for mixed use. [NFL] owners have to generate other business.”

Other venues are not standing still either, she points out. In Exposition Park, “USC is investing $300 million in renovating the [Los Angeles Memorial] Coliseum. They can’t stay status quo; they chose to raise the bar. The Lucas Museum [of Narrative Art] was already coming to Exposition Park. Now there’s also the Banc of California Stadium.”

Larry Freedman, executive vice president and Coming up on the calendar: the MLB All-Star Game in 2020, the NCAA Men’s West Regional Basketball Championship in 2020, the Super Bowl in 2022, the College Football Playoff National Championship in 2023, the U.S. Open in 2023, FIFA World Cup™ games in 2026, and the Summer Olympics in 2028.

chief business officer of the Los Angeles Football Club, is excited about prospects for the Banc of California Stadium, the soccer club’s home. For one thing, there are a lot of soccer fans in the area. “There’s the enormity and diversity of the market,” he says. “The world is here, and this is the world’s game.” And although the stadium was built for sports on the field, it’s geared to hold concerts and premieres as well. There are also five unique club spaces for all kinds of events, big and small.

“The venues are just the tip of the iceberg. There are so many iconic places. L.A. is also a good backdrop for sponsors, who want to be seen—and seen with the right people.”

“We created a venue that has the ability to host and entertain 365 days a year,” Freedman says. “We opened The Fields, an international food experience connected to the stadium. It offers a culinary destination in Exposition Park, which has several million visitors [a year].” The surrounding area is also being developed, he points out, in part because USC is adding to its campus. “We’re part of an extended ‘Figueroa corridor,’ from Chavez Ravine to Downtown, STAPLES Center, and L.A. LIVE to the USC campus, Exposition Park, and the Banc of California Stadium.”

The Banc of California Stadium will certainly have a role in the upcoming FIFA World Cup™, possibly as a practice field or for hospitality events. And though the exact distribution of venues for the games throughout the U.S., Canada, and Mexico won’t be announced for months, Alan Rothenberg, head of the host committee as well as chairman of L.A. Tourism, is confident that “given the history of L.A. hosting events, we have a good shot at the opening or the final,” in addition to other matches.

Why? “We have the weather, the infrastructure, and we have people experienced in handling events like these—the World Cup™, the Olympics, the Women’s World Cup,” Rothenberg says.

“We have extensive relationships nationally and internationally in the soccer community. No city has more diversity than L.A., and this will only heighten the diverse and international nature of L.A.”

The hospitality industry has an important role to play as well, notes Javier Cano, vice president and market general manager of JW Marriott at L.A. LIVE. “We’re fortunate,” he says, “because Los Angeles is a world-class destination. You can fly here from pretty much anywhere in the world nonstop. The world is getting smaller; communication gets us closer and closer. And events like these showcase to the world the wonderful things that exist. The venues are just the tip of the iceberg. There are so many iconic places. L.A. is also a good backdrop for sponsors, who want to be seen—and seen with the right people.”

Schloessman adds that the key for sponsors, as for any visitor to these events, is the confidence that everyone will be well taken care of, that the guest experience will be positive. “The growth trend has reached citywide scale. The hotel inventory is going up, and there’s a major push to improve transportation,” says Schloessman. “Because of the Olympics, Mayor Garcetti and the city have fast-tracked 28 projects, like light rail and [an automated] people mover at LAX.”

All of this development will culminate in the Olympic Games in 2028. Bill Hanway, global sports leader for AECOM—the international firm whose services range from design, architecture, and engineering to sustainability and construction—says, “We have the privilege of building the LA Stadium and working on the Coliseum. Those are the premium large-scale venues. And seeing the Coliseum transformed from an Olympics venue in 1932 to the one in 1984 and the improvements now is amazing. And the upgrades are not just the sports venues. The residential part of UCLA is also involved, since it will be home to the athletes’ village.

“The challenge is how to take advantage of the next four years,” Hanway adds. “The priority is to focus on what we can do with the Olympics and ensure that the spirit of the L.A. 2028 games is infused in the community. We’ll have a strong impact on youngsters in L.A.”

Hanway is looking forward to “successful, safe, secure, enjoyable games that are a positive experience for spectators and athletes. We’ll show the natural environment: the valley, the beautiful mountains, the variety of the beaches. L.A. is an attraction that extends far beyond the perceptions. People still remember what a great time they had in 1984. We hope to imbue that spirit in future generations.”

By hosting meeting industry events, such as this year's Professional Convention Management Association Education Conference, Los Angeles Tourism & Convention Board is a conduit for the exchange of fresh ideas and strategies among professionals to maximize the effectiveness of business conferences.

L.A. Tourism is proud and excited to partner with the City of Los Angeles to bring the 2019 Professional Convention Management Association (PCMA) Education Conference (pcmaeducon.org) to Los Angeles. This industry-leading event takes place at the JW Marriott Los Angeles L.A. LIVE on June 25–28.

"Hosting the PCMA Education Conference in June gives our entire hospitality community the opportunity to showcase its assets to this premier group of industry professionals," says Darren K. Green, Los Angeles Tourism & Convention Board senior vice president of sales. "We highly recommend that those in hospitality get involved with the Education Conference through attendance, partnerships, and sponsorships to capitalize on this unique opportunity coming to our city."

PCMA is the world's largest network of business event strategists. The organization is known as a definitive authority in education, business networking, and community engagement for leaders in the global meetings, convention, and business events industry. Through its results-driven education conferences, PCMA inspires, connects, and innovates to grow a community of big thinkers in the industry.

For the location of this year's education conference, PCMA set its sights on Los Angeles and its culture of creativity. "Los Angeles is a vibrant, engaging, and innovative city, which makes the city an ideal host for the 2019 PCMA Education Conference to inspire the business events industry," says Sheriff Karamat, CAE, president and CEO, PCMA. "We are excited and honored to partner with Los Angeles Tourism & Convention Board to bring this signature event to California and help participants embark on a path of professional and personal development."

An annual interactive event, PCMA's Education Conference is geared toward event marketers, experience designers, and business event strategists. Participants actively engage in focused sessions that address topics such as leadership, meeting and experience design, the latest tech and media trends, diversity and inclusion, business innovation, and creativity. Inspiring speakers, meetups, discussions, and brainstorming sessions provide insight into inventive strategies to make business events shine. At the Los Angeles conference, attendees will have the opportunity to customize their education path by mixing and matching to attend the sessions that best fit their unique professional development needs. No matter what you choose, you'll learn some key takeaways to start planning your most engaging and effective events ever.

make connections

The dynamic and innovative approach of the PCMA Education Conference sparks opportunities to engage with peers and experts, strengthening attendees' knowledge and networks. You'll find community among others who share your interests and goals while learning how to push your events to the next level.

Outside the sessions, there are opportunities to get out and explore. The conference will incorporate specially designed events, activities, and tours that showcase the vibrancy of the city of Los Angeles.

L.A. snapshot

There are 88 incorporated cities in Los Angeles County, ranging from Vernon (population 112) to Los Angeles (population 4 million). Los Angeles County is the first county in the nation to exceed 10 million residents. If the Los Angeles five-county area were a state, it would surpass all U.S. states in total population with the exception of California, Texas, New York, and Florida. The County of Los Angeles alone would be the seventh most populated state.

downtown L.A.

Hip hotels, trendsetting restaurants, world-class entertainment venues, and a thriving arts and culture scene along walkable streets make Downtown Los Angeles a unique meeting and convention destination. And there's an impressive list of luxurious, one-of-a-kind Downtown facilities that are flexible and designed to accommodate large groups for unforgettable gatherings.

NOMAD HOTEL

new and mainstay hotels

Among the newest options for accommodations is the Proper Hotel Downtown Los Angeles, which inhabits the historic former L.A. Press Club building on Broadway and 11th Street. The fresh lodgings include 148 guest rooms and two spacious presidential suites, and delectable menu options are offered at the two ground-floor restaurants as well as the bar and restaurant on the rooftop, which also features a dazzling pool.

On 7th Street, the 12-story, 241-room Nomad Hotel Los Angeles in the historic 1923 Giannini Place is a favorite hangout/event venue with a lofty rooftop swimming pool.

Sky-high panoramas are also a hallmark of the nearby Freehand Los Angeles. Housed in the historic Commercial Exchange building, the hotel features the award-winning Broken Shaker rooftop poolside bar along with multiple indoor and outdoor event and meeting spaces.

The Hotel Figueroa, named for the street on which it's located, was designed to evoke the city's Spanish origins. The 1926-founded property has a variety of group-friendly sites, all couched within an exotic vibe. About a block away, the Hotel Indigo Los Angeles Downtown showcases the Golden Age of Hollywood with a modern flair. Thanks to the property's 268 guest accommodations, 11 meeting spaces, and exhibit space, planning an event there is a snap.

Remarkable mainstays, like the Sheraton Grand on Hope Street and The Ritz-Carlton, Los Angeles on Olympic Boulevard, have gained reputations for their memorable panoramas, which stretch from the city skyline to distant mountain ranges.

LIVE when witnessed from the rooftop pool. Just right for groups, the hotel has 878 guest rooms and 14 event spaces at the ready.

"Unrivaled" best describes the views from Spire 73, a chic cocktail lounge on the roof of Wilshire Boulevard's InterContinental Los Angeles Downtown. The 900-room hotel houses 94,000 square feet of event space, including a Grand Ballroom, 33 meeting rooms, and Spire 73, named for the number of the top floor on which it is perched and known as the tallest open-air bar in the western hemisphere.

At the Ace Hotel on Broadway Avenue, a restored 1,600-seat 1920s theatre adjoins the hip 182-room hotel, where five additional meeting spaces are also available.

The Kim Sing Theatre, a 1926-built former vaudeville house in Chinatown, which recently reopened and recalls its past through the original bow-truss ceiling and marquee, is available for use as a 100-person-capacity event space as well as a micro-boutique hotel that sleeps up to 10 guests.

event-centric venues

The grande dame of L.A.'s event spaces is the Los Angeles

Convention Center.

This stalwart glass structure in the heart of Downtown across the street from the L.A. LIVE entertainment complex hosts more than 300 conventions, trade shows, exhibitions, meetings, and special events each year.

Other statement-making venues are all about City of Angels views. Topping the list is South Park Center, a sleek skyscraper with a concourse level that features a fully equipped 500-seat theater for corporate events, dinners, and meetings. From Target Terrace, an 8,100-square-foot event space on the rooftop of the GRAMMY Museum® that accommodates up to 300 guests, meeting participants can spy both the iconic Hollywood Sign and the metropolitan horizon. At OUE Skyspace LA, where California's tallest open-air observation deck provides 360-degree cityscapes from nearly 1,000 feet up, the 70th floor offers a 3,400-square-foot event space. For maximum flexibility Convene Los Angeles offers two premium locations with on-demand meeting space for groups from two to 500.

L.A. is a foodie's paradise, and Downtown restaurant venues are known for their gourmet delights. From multicultural cuisine at Freehand Hotel's The Exchange restaurant to speakeasy fare at The Edison lounge, there are flavors for every palate.

The Palm restaurant, a favorite among classic steakhouses, hosts groups of up to 300. Also available for buyouts and corporate functions are Boca Restaurant at the famous Conga Room on the L.A. LIVE campus, and Redbird restaurant and Vibiana event facility, both located in the building that housed the former St. Vibiana's Cathedral.

High above the L.A. skyline in The Ritz-Carlton, Los Angeles hotel, Wolfgang Puck's award-winning Asian fusion restaurant, WP24, is ready to treat groups to award-winning cuisine and spectacular city views. A number of event spaces are available within the elegant 1939-built Union Station railway terminal, and the newest addition opened last year. Located in the terminal's Fred Harvey Room, the Imperial Western Beer Co. craft brewery and The Streamliner brewpub feature a 1940s full bar and al fresco patio service.

Downtown L.A.'s world-class entertainment arenas stand ready to create memory-making events for parties of all sizes. Microsoft Theater at L.A. LIVE has 7,100 seats and is home to the Emmy Awards and the American Music Awards. Just across the street, STAPLES Center presents major concerts with stars like Justin Timberlake, Keith Urban, and BTS, as well as the sporting competitions of home teams: the Lakers, the Clippers and the Sparks basketball organizations, and the Kings hockey team. Just down the street next to the Coliseum is the new 22,000-seat Banc of California Stadium, which is now home to Major League Soccer's Los Angeles Football Club.

L.A.'s thriving arts and culture scene provides plenty of opportunities for group entertainment, too. Perusal of Arts District galleries, such as Hauser & Wirth and Royale Projects, can reveal historic insights as well as leading-edge perspectives. In the Bunker Hill district, guests can pore over contemporary art at MOCA and The Broad before heading next door for a musical performance by the LA Philharmonic at Walt Disney Concert Hall. For a historical look at the significance of American music, meeting participants can visit the GRAMMY Museum®.

For great theater, groups can enjoy performances at the 739-seat Mark Taper Forum, part of The Music Center, which is also home to the LA Opera, Center Theatre Group, and LA Master Chorale.

shopping

A host of specialty shopping quarters located in Downtown are attractions in their own right: the Fashion, Flower, and Jewelry districts. Open-air malls FIGat7th and The Bloc offer additional opportunities, and Olvera Street, a preserved Mexican marketplace, is lined with gift shops and street vendors that sell handmade crafts.

los angeles convention center

Perfectly positioned in the heart of Downtown L.A. adjacent to popular sports and entertainment attractions such as L.A. LIVE, STAPLES Center, and Microsoft Theater, the Los Angeles Convention Center (LACC) is known for its eye-popping modern design, airy and versatile spaces, and upgraded interiors. Now, professional meeting planners will find even more reasons to choose LACC for their next event thanks to features and technological upgrades that have recently enhanced the center.

In September 2018, the LACC officially became the first convention center in the U.S. to permanently install a 5G (fifth-generation) wireless network. The powerful technology behind the new wireless Internet and voice services dramatically increases the bandwidth and speed available to users for moving and obtaining data, and boosts users' capacity to transform artificial-intelligence, virtual-reality, and video-calling services. The new network ensures state-of-the-art technological performance for all future events that take place at the center.

As a LEED-EB Gold Certified facility, the LACC is committed to conservation, as demonstrated by its extensive waste diversion system and comprehensive food and non-food recycling programs.

In 2018, the center installed a two-megawatt solar array on the roof of its massive South Hall; these additional panels elevated the system to a capacity of 2.58 megawatts. In total, the array's 6,228 panels generate 3.4 million kilowatt hours of electricity per year and reduce the facility's carbon footprint by 2,554 metric tons per year.

Another recent addition to the LACC's environmentally friendly attributes is a 9,500-square-foot rooftop garden located above the lobby of the expansive South Hall. The garden, which features citrus trees, herbs, vegetables, and seasonal flowers, supplies produce items such as chili peppers, lettuce, and carrots.

The LACC offers nearly 770,000 square feet of exhibit space, including three large halls for major shows, two special-event meeting rooms spanning more than 20,000 square feet each, 63 standard meeting rooms, and a tiered-seating theater for screenings, presentations, product unveilings, and press conferences.

To book LACC for your event, contact the L.A. Tourism Citywide Convention Sales team. For more information, visit discoverlosangeles.com/meetla/los-angeles-convention-center.

FIRST-CLASS SERVICE The LACC team specializes in creating successful events that exceed clients' expectations. In order to achieve this, the facility partners with industry experts to provide clients and guests with superior services. Taste of L.A. by Levy Restaurants is the LACC's signature and exclusive dining experience. Taste of L.A. is committed to sourcing local products, using the freshest ingredients available, and preparing exquisite meals to deliver heartfelt joy to its guests. Offering concessions, catering, portable options, food truck alleys, exhibit booth service, customized staff meal options, and so much more, Taste of L.A. delivers excellent food inspired by the City of Angels. Smart City is the exclusive, in-house telecommunications provider and offers clients and attendees unparalleled expertise and service. The LACC also offers a full-service business center powered by Los Angeles based Image Quest Plus.

ENVIRONMENTAL INITIATIVES The LACC reduces its environmental impact while providing a positive experience to clients and guests. In 2015, the venue became the first U.S. convention center of its size to be recertified at the Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design (LEED) Gold level. In 2017, the LACC received California's highest environmental honor, the Governor's Environmental and Economic Leadership Award (GEELA). In 2018, the LACC plugged in a 2.21 megawatt solar array, making it the largest solar array on a municipally owned convention center in the United States. The LACC is committed to leveraging its position in the community to raise awareness of environmental issues and inspire others to take action. To mitigate negative environmental impact, it invests heavily in sustainable products, technology, and practices.

Contact the LACC to learn how it can bring your event vision to life!

AS THE TALLEST BUILDING WEST OF CHICAGO AND both a 2018 Travel + Leisure World's Best Hotel and 2018 Condé Nast Traveler Readers' Choice Award winner, InterContinental Los Angeles Downtown forever redefines the city skyline. Located in the epicenter of downtown's historic financial and arts district, and mere blocks from Staples Center and L.A. Live, InterContinental Los Angeles Downtown leads the way as the new architectural icon of luxury hospitality.

The hotel features 889 elegant guestrooms, including 109 suites replete with floor-to-ceiling windows and myriad culinary venues to satisfy every craving and occasion. Culinary outlets include La Boucherie, a high-end steakhouse with a French twist; Sora, an upscale, intimate sushi restaurant; Dekkadance, an international market experience; and Spire 73—the tallest open-air bar in the Western Hemisphere—located atop the 73rd floor and boasting breathtaking 360-degree views. The pool deck features a restaurant and bar, fire pits, and private cabanas.

As the first LEED Gold-certified building in downtown Los Angeles for building design and construction, InterContinental Los Angeles Downtown leads the way in environmental stewardship without detracting from a luxury guest experience. Embracing the Southern California lifestyle, the hotel offers 95,000 square feet of indoor/outdoor meeting and event space, including an elegant 20,500-square-foot Wilshire Grand Ballroom, signature Club InterContinental, and executive fitness center. From intricate light fixtures inspired by L.A.'s famed freeways to billboard-inspired headboards in each guestroom, the hotel aims to bring a fresh, iconic, and elevated perspective of Los Angeles to travelers and locals alike.

SHERATON GRAND LOS ANGELES IS IN THE HEART OF the new pulse of Downtown L.A.: The Bloc. Welcoming guests and locals alike with signature Sheraton warmth, the hotel has been completely revitalized through a $75 million redesign. The entire hotel has been activated—from the marble-clad lobby to the 26th-floor Club Lounge to the new farm-to-table restaurant, The District—with clean, modern lines accented with references to silver screen glamour.

Our completely remodeled guest rooms have new decor, modern bathrooms, and tech that makes each room an Internet hot spot. Engaging public spaces are powered by technology, both indoors and out, enabling guests to share photos from luxe cabanas on the deck overlooking the plaza, or check emails over a drink at The District. The soul of the hotel experience is our passionate staff, who make every guest feel that they are right where they belong.

Our location inside The Bloc allows guests to experience L.A. the way they like, with fantastic shopping, restaurants, and entertainment venues just steps away. The newly created Metro stop just outside our door puts all of L.A. (and beyond) within easy reach.

In all, Sheraton offers an impressive 26,000 square feet of flexible function space, including the 10,000-square-foot ballroom. For smaller groups, you'll find a host of warm and newly refreshed meeting spaces. Conveniently, our 35 stylish function rooms are located primarily on one level, with on-site PSAV Presentation Services to assist with your last-minute audiovisual, lighting, and sound needs—along with wired and wireless high-speed Internet access in all venues and pre-function space.

The Sheraton works to make all of the details of your event perfect so you can focus on what truly matters—your people. Each of the 496 guest rooms and suites offers a completely updated look, featuring a rich and warm color palette, the Sheraton Sleep Experience Bed, high-speed Internet access, and a flat-screen TV.

THE 350-ROOM HOTEL INDIGO LOS ANGELES Downtown is located just one block from L.A. LIVE, which has over 5 million square feet of retail, restaurants, bars, and sports and concert venues. Home to the STAPLES Center, four professional sports teams, and the location for the GRAMMY® and ESPY Awards, L.A. LIVE is the preeminent entertainment venue in Los Angeles. Our pool deck and penthouse bar have tremendous views over the entire L.A. LIVE complex and Downtown Los Angeles.

The Hotel Indigo LA Downtown is a LEED Silver new-build, flagship for IHG, is managed by IHG, and is located at Metropolis, a more than $1.5 billion mixed-use development which redefines the Los Angeles streetscape, skyline, and lifestyle, bringing a new kind of urban experience and individual expression that can only be found within a truly vibrant Downtown core.

With 12 meeting rooms and 22,343 square feet of versatile meeting and event space, energize your meetings or special events. Whatever the occasion, we'll create an atmosphere that'll engage your attendees.

Our property features a restaurant and two bars which will showcase offerings from Kevin Harry as well as local classics from the period. Come see how our unique story will help you create an unforgettable experience for your attendees.

Take the elevator to the 18th floor for a bird's-eye view of our slice of Los Angeles from our Penthouse bar, 18 Social. Experience our elegant lobby with an inviting, centrally located restaurant and lobby bar. Our restaurant, rooftop bar, and pool will offer a menu that focuses on locally-sourced and seasonal ingredients.

Our local story is Los Angeles between 1900 and 1950, and our unusual design elements (created by Hirsch Bedner and executed by Gensler) reference prohibition, speakeasies, the Golden Age of Hollywood, classic movie premieres in the theaters along Broadway, and the tunnels which secretly connect our neighborhood with the Downtown core. Our staff will create curated personalized tours which will bring our neighborhood to life and connect your guests to the destination in ways they never imagined.

WHEN YOU STAY WITH US, YOU WILL FIND THAT WHILE you are at the heart of the cultural, finance, and entertainment hub of Downtown Los Angeles, our hotel offers you a serene retreat from the hustle and bustle of the city, transforming into your home away from home.

The L.A. Grand Hotel Downtown was designed with the everyday traveler in mind. Whether you are traveling for business, visiting friends, or enjoying a family vacation in Los Angeles, we are proud to offer a variety of spacious suite options to satisfy all tastes and accommodate your needs.

Our recent renovations have highlighted our modern, contemporary oasis and further enhanced our guest room features and amenities. Upon entering the lobby, our open floor plan allows you to easily scan the first floor for your next stop. Our meeting space at 25,000 square feet is all on one floor and can accommodate up to 450 classroom style as well as 500 banquet style. We offer ample natural light in our large skylit foyer. From our built-in registration desk, you have a commanding view of our meeting space.

Check in with the front desk, take a breath and sit at one of the many sofas throughout the lobby, enjoy a cocktail at BAR9 or a full dinner meal at Ziran restaurant, or simply visit the gift shop for a city souvenir. If you're staying for an event held at one of our meeting rooms upstairs, you can take the escalators (found in the middle of the lobby) right on up. Oh, the options!

W HOLLYWOOD HOTEL

Rightfully known as the entertainment capital of the world, Hollywood is an essential part of the Los Angeles experience for millions of visitors each year. Explore TCL Chinese Theatres and the Hollywood Walk of Fame, where lasting star tributes to celebrities have been cast in brass and terrazzo for more than 50 years. Visit the nearby Dolby Theatre®, home of the Academy Awards®. It's located at Hollywood & Highland, a complex at the iconic intersection where shopping, dining, and entertainment opportunities surround a spectacular courtyard modeled after the massive sets of the 1916 silent film Intolerance. Not far away, Universal Studios® Hollywood offers thrill-seekers, film enthusiasts, and families a daily glimpse of moviemaking magic with rides, shows, and tours, as well as The Wizarding World of Harry Potter™ attraction, based on J. K. Rowling's epic book series. In addition to Tinseltown glitz, Hollywood encompasses neighborhoods such as Thai Town and Little Armenia, offering a rich array of ethnic cuisines.

Hollywood hotels are centrally located, providing meeting options to suit every budget and plenty of entertainment for after-meetings hours. W Hollywood Hotel is located at Hollywood and Vine, one of the most vibrant intersections of Los Angeles—day or night—and offers 12,580 square feet of event space. At the chic new boutique hotel Dream Hollywood, the Highlight Room features a pool, a lounge, and a garden restaurant in 11,000 square feet of dynamic event space offering 360-degree views of Los Angeles, including the Hollywood Sign. The iconic Hollywood Roosevelt Hotel, right in the heart of Hollywood, can provide business groups with more than 25,000 square feet of flexible meeting space. And located on the grounds of Universal Studios® Hollywood, the Hilton Los Angeles/Universal City features more than 35,000 square feet of event space right next to a major theme park—a perfect spot for events of all sizes. Whether you're planning a business meeting of 10 or a company gathering of hundreds, you will find that Hollywood hotels make every client feel like a star.

Restaurants in Hollywood offer an array of cuisines: Japanese, Mexican, Thai, and many others. They also provide creative spaces to host large meetings. Yamashiro, the historic sushi venue with sweeping views of the city from high above Hollywood Boulevard, easily accommodates groups.

Dave & Buster's is a favorite for fans of televised sports; the staff can help you plan an epic event. Whether you're looking for a place to host a banquet, a company reception, or an intimate business dinner, you have many choices of venues in Hollywood.

attractions

After a productive day, there's no better place to unwind than Hollywood. The Pantages Theatre regularly hosts Broadway shows. And the Dolby Theatre® features a constant lineup of popular performers. The grand El Capitan Theatre is an elegant restored structure that shows current movies, as does the TCL Chinese Theatres. The Hollywood Bowl, with its roster of al fresco performances and picnic spots, makes for a fun after-meeting outing. And attractions like the Hollywood Walk of Fame and the wax figures of celebrities at Madame Tussauds Hollywood provide glimpses of stardom.

In their free time, your group will enjoy shopping on Hollywood's famous thoroughfares like Sunset, Santa Monica, and Hollywood boulevards, with blocks of boutiques and gift shops among cafes and restaurants. Hip vintage items can be found on Melrose Avenue, while Amoeba Music is the place to go for rare record albums as well as new CDs.

HOLLYWOOD AND WEST HOLLYWOOD

Beverly Boulevard, and Robertson Boulevard, you'll find the West Hollywood Design District, where art, fashion, and design converge. Stella McCartney, Maxfield, and Balenciaga, along with many other top fashion names, are all within the Design District.

Stretching a mile and a half through the city, the Sunset Strip is lined with chic hotels, buzzing nightclubs, and trendy restaurants. The newest hotel on the Strip, the Hotel West Hollywood, offers panoramic views of the Hollywood Hills and Downtown Los Angeles, and for stunning sunset views over cocktails, the rooftop pool at the Andaz West Hollywood is a must.

At the Pacific Design Center, L.A.'s massive showcase for all things tasteful, the showrooms frequented by interior designers, architects, decorators, and dealers are open to the public. It all adds up to a dazzling concentration of fashion, fine art, and food.

West Hollywood is not only a city unto itself, it's a 1.9-square-mile universe. It's where L.A. gets very hip—think Whisky A Go Go, launching rock careers on the Sunset Strip for five decades now. And it's where some of L.A.'s hottest dance clubs, bars, and lounges are generously sprinkled along main thoroughfares like Santa Monica Boulevard, so bar-hopping and scene-shifting are an easy and festive matter.

It's also where L.A. gets very stylish—along Melrose Avenue,

THINK OUTSIDE THE BALLROOM FOR AN OFF-SITE meeting or event that's modern, comfortable, and cutting-edge, all in a personalized, boutique setting. The Garland's lighthearted dose of nostalgia can be felt in every corner of the property after a $20 million redesign and renovation that transformed the historic enclave into a mid-century oasis. Tucked into seven shaded acres only a few miles from the heart of Los Angeles' entertainment and business destinations, The Garland offers more than 20,000 square feet of flexible indoor and outdoor event space, including an expansion to our outdoor park—a canvas on which you can create any event you desire.

Just a short drive up the 101 freeway from the bright lights of Hollywood, The Garland offers proximity to the center of L.A. commerce and recreation while enveloping its visitors in a relaxing setting that invites you to make yourself at home. The Garland's history as a respite from the hustle of the city dates back to 1970—an era that inspires its personality still today. A prized urban retreat for Hollywood actress Beverly Garland, the namesake of the hotel, the chic surroundings provide the perfect setting for working hard, playing hard, and everything in between.

attractions

The Getty Center, perched on a hilltop overlooking Brentwood, features not just a world-acclaimed art collection, but also an ever-changing garden and spectacular views of the ocean. Nearby is the Skirball Cultural Center, one of the leading Jewish cultural art and education centers in the world. The Los Angeles County Museum of Art (LACMA) is chock-full of contemporary art and unique installations, and is the anchor of Wilshire Boulevard's Museum Row. For visitors interested in exploring Los Angeles's renowned car culture, the Petersen Automotive Museum holds an unparalleled collection of automobiles. The El Rey Theatre on Wilshire Boulevard is an art deco-style music venue. Each of these institutions can easily accommodate business groups and provide unique settings for your next meeting event.

Meeting attendees in search of a shopping adventure will enjoy the many opportunities on the Westside. The recently renovated Westfield Century City mall is a big, lively complex with restaurants, shops, name-brand stores, and movie theaters. For smaller-scale areas, visitors can check out the high-end boutiques and cafes on Robertson Boulevard, and the trendy specialty shops and restaurants on West 3rd Street between La Cienega and Fairfax. Another gem: Culver City's Platform, a collection of high-quality boutiques and eateries that features a full-service event space.

transportation

- Big Blue Bus: bigbluebus.com
- Metro: metro.net
- Prime Time airport shuttle: primetimeshuttle.com
- SuperShuttle airport service: supershuttle.com

The Westside is renowned for its top restaurants, high-end shopping, and acclaimed cultural attractions. Shopaholics flock to the trendy boutiques on West 3rd Street, popular shopping centers such as The Grove and the Beverly Center, and the landmark Original Farmers Market. The affluent Brentwood community includes upscale shops and eateries along Montana Avenue, as well as the world-famous Getty Center, located atop the Santa Monica Mountains. More cultural attractions can be found on Museum Row, including the Los Angeles County Museum of Art, Petersen Automotive Museum, Craft & Folk Art Museum, and La Brea Tar Pits & Museum. In Century City, the Annenberg Space for Photography features a digital projection gallery and a traditional print exhibit area.

Westwood has many location choices for your next meeting, from chic boutique hotels to big luxury hotels—all of which welcome business groups with a wide array of spaces. Hotel Angeleno, for instance, provides almost 10,000 square feet of flexible meeting and event space. Each room boasts panoramic views of Los Angeles and the Pacific coastline, and the Rodeo Room has a 12-foot ceiling and floor-to-ceiling windows along the western wall. At the

W Los Angeles - West Beverly Hills, the 5,102 square feet of indoor/outdoor meeting and event space includes a pool deck with cabanas and an Airstream bar. The boutique Kimpton Hotel Palomar Los Angeles Beverly Hills offers meeting spaces, multimedia and A/V technology, as well as a premier location on Wilshire Boulevard. The Courtyard by Marriott Los Angeles Westside in Culver City features 11 event rooms and more than 18,000 square feet of event space.

The Westside also has a range of restaurants. Akasha in Culver City features California cuisine in seasonally changing menus, and its space in the historic Hull Building provides a unique spot for dinners for up to 30 or cocktail parties for as many as 200. Father's Office, a gastropub in the historic Helms Bakery district, welcomes private parties. (Its Office Burger is among the city's best.) Versailles is a local institution for Cuban food, and the cozy El Carmen taqueria has an extensive tequila selection. Your guests will also enjoy the flavor-filled cuisines of restaurants in Sawtelle Japantown and Persian Square.

AVRA BEVERLY HILLS

L.A.'s venerable seat of luxury—the place the world equates with all things sumptuous, exquisite, tasteful—is an accessible paradise. One of the best ways to enjoy the city, which has an easily walkable area known as the Golden Triangle, is to wander along Rodeo Drive and Beverly Drive with side trips down the adjacent blocks. You'll find charming restaurants with outdoor patios, five-star hotels, and the world's most-coveted brands. Shop for one-of-a-kind jewelry pieces at Harry Winston, Van Cleef & Arpels, Bulgari, and Cartier. Stroll the cobblestone walkways at Two Rodeo and pick up treasures at Versace, Lanvin, Jimmy Choo, and Tiffany & Co. Be sure to visit the Prada Epicenter store. Remarkably designed without a façade, the entire front of the store along Rodeo Drive opens up to the street, welcoming visitors without the traditional glass or doors. Along the southern border of the Golden Triangle, you'll find Neiman Marcus, Saks Fifth Avenue, and Barneys New York. Rub elbows with celebrities at Wolfgang Puck's flagship restaurant, Spago Beverly Hills, a favorite of locals. Experience fresh, innovative cuisine at Jean-Georges Beverly Hills at the Waldorf Astoria, the first L.A. restaurant from three Michelin star chef Jean-George Vongerichten. Whether you're looking for a five-star hotel, a luxurious spa experience, world-renowned shopping, or star-studded dining, you'll find it all in Beverly Hills.

Impress meeting attendees by planning your next event at one of the opulent hotels of Beverly Hills. The Viceroy L'Ermitage Beverly Hills is a luxury boutique hotel near Rodeo Drive with meeting rooms, dining spaces, and a rooftop just right for hosting sophisticated events. For luxury on a grand scale, the Four Seasons Hotel Los Angeles at Beverly Hills offers more than 16,000 square feet of meeting spaces, as well as professional technicians and a round-the-clock concierge to assist with your business meeting needs. The iconic Beverly Hills Hotel on Sunset Boulevard has gardens, ballrooms, and dining spots, as well as more than 22,000 square feet of indoor event space and 4,800 square feet of outdoor event space. The Beverly Wilshire, a Four Seasons Hotel, can accommodate large business meetings, conferences, and banquets. The sleek Beverly Hills Marriott offers a business center, ballroom, and eight meeting rooms. And the stylish Waldorf Astoria Beverly Hills on Wilshire Boulevard offers a private garden and a rooftop lounge deck with panoramic views of Beverly Hills and Hollywood as well as 6,300 square feet of richly appointed indoor space.

For a unique and elegant Beverly Hills meeting venue, check out the Wallis Annenberg Center for the Performing Arts. Partially housed in a historic former post office, this architectural gem includes two theatres and an outdoor event terrace. Greystone Park & Mansion features a 46,000-square-foot historic mansion on an 18-acre wooded estate, and the historic Saban Theater is an art deco treasure.

Few cities can compete with the number of top-notch restaurants in Beverly Hills. Enjoy the steak and seafood of renowned restaurateur Cameron Mitchell at Ocean Prime, the Greek cuisine of Avra Beverly Hills, and Citizen's modern comfort food and craft cocktails. These and others easily accommodate business meetings, as do many restaurants located in this city's luxury hotels, such as Bar Nineteen12 in The Beverly Hills Hotel, which has a terrace overlooking the hotel pool and the city's palm trees. For a truly bespoke event, a private dinner or restaurant buyout in a Beverly Hills restaurant is an excellent choice.

shopping

Shopping is fun in Beverly Hills—the tree-lined streets are filled with comfortable cafes, restaurants, and high-end shops. Rodeo Drive is one of the premier shopping destinations in the world, with scores of haute and casual-couture boutiques, as well as shops selling shoes, jewelry, antiques, and more. Beverly Drive and Santa Monica Boulevard in Beverly Hills are dotted with boutiques and brand-name stores—even specialty chocolate and cupcake shops, like Sprinkles on Santa Monica Boulevard.

In the non-working hours, meeting attendees will want to see what's happening at the Wallis Annenberg Center for the Performing Arts; the Samuel Goldwyn

Theater, which hosts Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences events; and the Paley Center for Media, where they can browse through more than 160,000 television and radio programs as well as advertisements from the past. These venues also offer distinctive spaces for meetings, conferences, and screenings.

transportation

Besides the transportation options available throughout the Westside, Beverly Hills is served by Starline Tours of Hollywood (starlinetours.com/los-angeles-tours.asp).

LOCATED AT THE CROSSROADS OF BEVERLY HILLS AND Los Angeles, SLS Beverly Hills offers more than 30,000 square feet of indoor and outdoor event space, including dedicated meeting rooms, flexible pre-function space, banquet rooms, and breakout suites. Our event services include full-service catering with exclusive menus by chef José Andrés, as well as full-scale audiovisual equipment and staffing.

The 4,400-square-foot Albert Ballroom, a Philippe Starck-designed space with oversized chandeliers and adaptable lighting, accommodates 10 to 500, and can be divided into four separate rooms. Foyer light boxes change colors and may be customized with guest branding. The Garden Room is a lavish indoor ballroom, with billowing white curtains, ornate mirrors and whimsical Starck furniture pieces, and a private entrance off the valet that opens onto The Garden Terrace, a secluded outdoor patio with a retractable skylight roof.

Also at your disposal are five smaller Monkey Rooms, meeting spaces named after playful monkeys from history or literature. With ergonomic chairs, natural outdoor lighting, and continuous refreshment service, these rooms are designed to keep attendees comfortable, focused, and productive. Each one features unobstructed sight lines, soundproof walls, and absolute privacy and confidentiality.

Each meeting and event receives 24-hour A/V support and services, as well as high-speed Internet access for a fee, access to the business center, and personalized, intuitive service. Teleconferencing and public address systems are in place, as well as video conferencing services and a personal wedding coordinator, should such services be required.

The popular Geoffrey's Malibu offers a seafood-rich menu and a superb location—right on the ocean—for group dining. Mastro's Ocean Club, also in Malibu, serves hearty steak and seafood dishes, and easily accommodates corporate meetings and events. In Venice, the iconic Rose Cafe serves seasonal, globally influenced cuisine for breakfast, lunch, and dinner, and the restaurant's events team helps design custom events in its various private dining spaces, including an outdoor area that seats up to 180 guests. The private dining room at Cast & Plow in Marina del Rey treats small groups to farm-to-table cuisine. Baleen Kitchen, located in The Portofino Hotel & Marina in Redondo Beach, accommodates large or small groups in dining areas with waterfront views.

Plan for some group downtime at Abbot Kinney Boulevard in Venice, a shopper's dream of small boutiques selling unique clothing and artisan-made items. Or take a stroll down the Venice Ocean Front Walk, lined with gift shops and local artists selling their wares. The main streets of Manhattan Beach, Hermosa Beach, Redondo Beach, and Long Beach also offer plenty of shops to explore.

Some fun in the sun may be just the recharge the group needs when the business day ends—and activities like biking, surfing, and volleyball are all possible down at the beaches. Book a dining or cocktail cruise via Hornblower Cruises & Events. Make wine tasting an adventure for your group on a Malibu Wine Safari or Malibu Wine Hike.

WITH COASTAL ATTRACTIONS STRETCHING FROM MALIBU ALL the way south to San Pedro and the Port of Los Angeles, L.A.'s beach communities are the epitome of Southern California's endless summer. Malibu entices visitors and locals with mile upon mile of beaches and outdoor activities in the Santa Monica Mountains. Famous for its boardwalk, Venice Beach is also the site of Muscle Beach and the Venice Skate Park. Abbot Kinney Boulevard in Venice is known for its eclectic shops and sophisticated eateries. Marina del Rey is the largest man-made marina in the United States. South of LAX, San Pedro is home to the Port of Los Angeles World Cruise Center, Battleship USS IOWA, and CRAFTED, a marketplace for dozens of local artisans.

Marina del Rey is a serene little village set next to a large marina where yachts and sailboats are moored. The Ritz-Carlton Marina del Rey, situated directly on the waterfront, offers luxury accommodations and calming views of the sparkling marina waters. The boutique-style Marina del Rey Hotel is just minutes away from beach activities like biking and surfing. Farther south, the golf course-adjacent westdrift Manhattan Beach is conveniently located near shops and accommodates business gatherings of all sizes.

venues with a view

Terranea Resort is a luxurious spot for groups. The 102-acre site at the tip of the Palos Verdes peninsula is flanked by the ocean on three sides and provides state-of-the-art meeting facilities. Hotel Erwin, a funky beachfront hotel on Venice Beach, offers quintessentially L.A. meeting spaces, such as an ocean-facing penthouse and a rooftop lounge overlooking the beach.

hotels near LAX

Does your group need to stay close to the airport? Sheraton Gateway Los Angeles Hotel is just a few minutes' drive from LAX—a huge convenience for businesspeople short on time—and offers conference and meeting rooms as well as spaces for special events. Four Points by Sheraton Los Angeles International Airport is a mile from the airport. Large meeting rooms and flexible spaces make it another great choice for business gatherings. Just seven miles from touchdown and takeoff, Crowne Plaza Redondo Beach and Marina is walking distance from the beach and offers state-of-the-art business facilities along with its coastal views. The Beach House, a boutique luxury waterfront hotel in Hermosa Beach, features four meeting rooms for corporate events just 10 minutes from LAX. los angeles waterfront/san pedro

For business visitors with time for a side trip, the quaint harbor town of San Pedro has lots to see. Its award-winning Downtown Harbor and Town Square is a landscaped plaza, promenade, and pier offering views of recreational vessels coming in and out of the inlet. The Doubletree by Hilton Hotel San Pedro - Port of Los Angeles offers sparkling views of the marina and 16,000 square feet of meeting and event space. Take the group on a tour of the Battleship USS IOWA. It's permanently anchored at the Port of Los Angeles as an interactive naval museum and living memorial. Another gem for an extracurricular activity: CRAFTED, a restored warehouse that is now a permanent craft marketplace where more than 100 local artists, craftspeople, and artisan food makers sell their wares and give workshops. San Pedro is also the launch point for cruise adventures to Alaska, Mexico, and Hawaii. Catalina Express ferries head out regularly to Catalina Island; Spirit Cruises takes visitors on harbor tours and whale-watching trips. At San Pedro's Brouwerj West brewery, flexible meeting space is available that can accommodate groups from 30 to 2,500, including 8,000 square feet in the tasting room and 15,000 square feet in an outdoor courtyard.

BEACH CITIES/LAX AND SANTA MONICA

Seaside Santa Monica is a city of scenes, vistas that you can plug into to suit your mood. Ideally, you're always in the mood for fun, because you just can't do Santa Monica without having a good time. Maybe start with a walk in Palisades Park, a scene of strollers and joggers, yogis, and gawkers, and also a bluffside overlook for killer vistas—ocean, mountains, and miles of beach...long, sandy, perfect. You'll have a great view of Santa Monica Pier, too, but the pier wants your presence, not just your admiration. Make your way down to its Pacific Park for a brightly colored spin on the wheel. A few blocks inland is Third Street Promenade and Santa Monica Place, equal parts pedestrian shopping zone and stretched-out stage for some of the West Coast's best street performers. Even minus street entertainers, the sidewalks of Montana Avenue—Santa Monica's upscale shopping scene—are pretty entertaining, lined as they are with one-of-a-kind boutiques and cafes. Be sure to give equal time to Main Street, a place for bargains and finds and friendly coffeehouses tucked into historic buildings, where time slows just a bit in on-the-go Santa Monica.

A string of luxury hotels in the heart of Santa Monica overlook this gorgeous coastal scenery—perfect locations for large or small meetings. With the pier just a short walk away, Loews Santa Monica Beach Hotel treats guests to a spectacular view of sparkling ocean waves and volleyball games that spring up on the beach nearly every day. Santa Monica's modern Shore Hotel provides sleek accommodations, stunning views of the Pacific, and proximity to stores, cafes, and restaurants. For luxury beach accommodations, consider Shutters on the Beach—this hotel offers groups the space and relaxing setting they need. The Fairmont Miramar Hotel & Bungalows has more than 25,000 square feet of unique meeting and conference space on its lushly landscaped property. Check out The Bungalow, a Baja-styled 1947 cottage with ocean views and multiple gathering spaces for memorable meetings and events.

Santa Monica is rich with great places to eat. Cafes, health-food bistros, and fine restaurants spill out onto the sidewalks and feature dishes made with just-picked produce and other locally sourced ingredients. Rusty's Surf Ranch, located right on the Santa Monica

Pier, offers seafood, a beachy ambience, and a mix of spaces for corporate meetings. The Lobster also emphasizes seafood on its menu, and with its spacious dining areas overlooking the Pacific, it's an ideal spot for business groups.

attractions

The iconic Santa Monica Pier, with its vintage carousel, aquarium, small roller coaster, and a Ferris wheel that lights up at night, is a great place to unwind post-meeting. The arts scene in Santa Monica is vibrant. The Museum of Flying, a small air and space museum, is located next to the Santa Monica Airport and offers unique event space surrounded by historical aircraft.

Santa Monica is a shoppers' paradise. Upscale Montana Avenue has numerous restaurants and high-end stores. On the car-free Third Street Promenade, lined with boutiques, restaurants, and cafes, strolling and shopping in the California sunshine is a great way to build camaraderie among meeting attendees. Main Street is dotted with charming clothing boutiques and bistros, and the Santa Monica Farmers Markets are lively places to sample L.A.'s abundance of fresh-from-the-farm produce, homemade foods, and more.

Complementing the 36,000 square feet of ballroom space, our 25,000-square-foot conference center, totaling 30 function rooms, offers elegance, sophistication, and flexibility. Above the conference center, the gardens are perfect for numerous types of events.

Guest rooms are spacious and comfortable—featuring single-paned windows and contemporary furniture—and offer even the most seasoned traveler the soothing comforts of home. Three floors of exclusive Towers accommodations include our breathtaking lounge, which overlooks Los Angeles International Airport.

RONALD REAGAN PRESIDENTIAL FOUNDATION & INSTITUTE

The San Fernando Valley is home to movie studios, excellent restaurants, and natural and cultural attractions. Foodies and fashionistas alike will love Ventura Boulevard, the main thoroughfare. Many of L.A.'s most acclaimed sushi restaurants are located on "Sushi Row" in Studio City, while dozens of boutiques and vintage clothing shops are sure to please fashionable shoppers. The vibrant NoHo Arts District in North Hollywood is home to the Television Academy and an array of cafes, boutiques, and theaters. The Valley Performing Arts Center in Northridge features top-quality performances in a world-class, eco-friendly setting.

Hotels in the Valley are fully equipped to accommodate business meetings and conferences of all sizes. Among recent updates to the region's hotel inventory is a multimillion-dollar face-lift for the historic Sportsmen's Lodge in the heart of Studio City that includes new meeting and event space. The Garland hotel in North Hollywood is a classic property that has undergone a $20 million renovation, completely transforming it to evoke Southern California bohemian chic—and it now features more than 16,000 square feet of event space. The stylish Warner Center Marriott hotel in Woodland Hills offers meeting and conference rooms, a ballroom, and event space for your next company gathering.

The Hilton Los Angeles North/ Glendale & Executive Meeting Center features more than 19,000 square feet of event space.

Quality meets quantity in the San Fernando Valley, where plenty of venues can provide the perfect place for your product launch, reception, banquet, or conference for exceptional value.

With its mix of high-quality food, reasonable prices, and relaxed ambience, the Valley's dining scene is one of the best and most exciting in L.A. In the last several years, a string of new restaurants opened in Sherman Oaks, creating a bustling nightlife. In North Hollywood,

The Front Yard is a casual dining spot with a menu that showcases L.A.'s diverse food culture. Dozens of cultures — Latino, Middle Eastern, Indian, and Vietnamese, to name a few — contribute to the area's rich and varied culinary scene. For traditional American food as well as a private dining space for business meals, consider The Daily Grill in Burbank.

Shopping venues are easy to find in the Valley — meeting attendees will have plenty to explore. Ventura Boulevard runs east-west across the Valley, and its many shops, boutiques, mini-malls, and indoor-outdoor centers (many include theaters and restaurants) make it a perfect walking-and-shopping street. In particular, the strip in Studio City that runs from Laurel Canyon Boulevard to Whitsett Avenue features a fun mix of name-brand stores and designer boutiques. There's something for everyone at Westfield Topanga & The Village, where the plentiful shopping options range from luxury to athletic and the dining favorites include Sushi Katsu-ya, Sweetfin Poke, SusieCakes, Tender Greens, and more. The NoHo Arts District is full of eclectic boutique stores, unique restaurants and bistros, and a thriving performing arts scene.

The Valley's attractions are many, but they won't break your budget. Your meeting attendees can check out Warner Bros. Studio Tour Hollywood to see what happens on back lots and soundstages (group rates available). An alternative venue for a corporate event, Orcutt Ranch Horticultural Center offers a beautiful setting, surrounded by 24 acres of gardens and a citrus orchard. For outdoor relaxation, send attendees to the wide fairways of Woodley Lakes Golf Course near Lake Balboa. At the western edge of the region, the Ronald Reagan Presidential Foundation & Institute offers splendid views of the surrounding Simi Valley and features a life-size replica of the Oval Office, as well as a plane that served as Air Force One. The library offers numerous settings for conferences and gatherings, including the Air Force One Pavilion, where the plane is housed.

If your meeting guests want to explore Hollywood and Downtown L.A., they can do it without getting stuck in traffic. From the Metro Red Line terminal in North Hollywood, travelers can take a subway right into the heart of Hollywood and Downtown L.A., or get a ride on the Orange Line, a bus line that takes visitors along an old railroad route that stretches from one end of the Valley to the other.

Imagine a timeless society matron (or patron) finding a happy marriage with a cool young hipster, and you start to get a picture of Pasadena. Grand, elegant, traditional. Lively, happening, youthful. Nowhere is that blessed union more apparent than in Old Pasadena, where scores of historic brick buildings have been thoroughly restored and where even the alleyways are gussied up. The whole district is listed on the National Register of Historic Places. The old buildings house scads of up-to-date shops and more than 100 bistros, cafes, bars, nightclubs, and restaurants. Thousands come to stroll the streets on any given weekend evening, a parade nearly as entertaining as the world-famous annual Tournament of Roses Parade on January 1. But don't limit yourself just to Old Town. Get out to ogle elegant neighborhoods like Oak Knoll or the Lower Arroyo Seco, with its many Craftsman homes. Take in the arts (e.g., The Huntington Library, Art Collections, and Botanical Gardens; the Norton Simon Museum; and The Gamble House), tour the historic Rose Bowl Stadium, or comb for treasures there at the monthly (second Sunday) Rose Bowl Flea Market.

Pasadena welcomes your business group with a variety of hotel choices. The Pasadena Convention Center has flexible space totaling 128,000 square feet for meetings and events, including three exhibit halls, the 10-section Grand Ballroom, 18 conference rooms, and the 3,000-seat Pasadena Civic Auditorium as well as its adjoining Gold Room, which accommodates 250 for banquets.

The Langham Huntington, Pasadena is a grand hotel that includes 379 guest rooms, 23 acres of gardens, and more than 50,000 square feet of indoor and outdoor meeting spaces. The Westin Pasadena, not far from the Pasadena Convention Center, provides 24 spaces amounting to 29,000 square feet for meetings or events. Hilton Pasadena, also close to the Pasadena Convention Center, offers 30,000 square feet of flexible large and small meeting spaces.

Wow your group by holding an event at the unique Huntington Library, Art Collections, and Botanical Gardens, founded in 1919 by businessman Henry E. Huntington, an art, book, and garden enthusiast. Galleries feature stunning American and European art, and a dozen-plus different gardens cover the 120-acre rolling landscape. More than 35 indoor and outdoor venues are available for meetings and events.

High on the list of Pasadena's attractions are its many fine restaurants. Some examples:

The Royce Wood-Fired

Steakhouse at The Langham Huntington, Pasadena serves steak and fresh-caught local seafood and features two temperature-controlled wine rooms.

Union serves creative Italian-influenced dishes in a warm, brick-walled space. Great Maple puts a creative spin on American favorites, elevating them for new experiences in flavor in the chic, modern dining room and on the outdoor patio.

attractions

Pasadena might be most famous for its Tournament of Roses Parade that takes place every New Year's Day—and why not? Nothing compares to the sight of rose-decorated floats, along with marching bands and equestrian teams, passing through cheering crowds. College football games in the historic Rose Bowl Stadium are popular, too; the stadium and field are available as a unique event venue. The Gamble House, a Pasadena gem, is open for docent-led tours nearly every day of the year. The house and its furnishings were designed in 1908 by Charles and Henry Greene for the Gamble family (of Procter & Gamble fame). You'll find plenty of ways to entertain meeting attendees here. Arrange for them to tee up for a round at one of the region's championship golf courses, or check out thoroughbred racing at Santa Anita Park.

Plan a tour of the Jet Propulsion Laboratory or a stop at the Norton Simon Museum to see dazzling collections of Asian and European art.

If a shopping day is on the itinerary, Pasadena has plenty of stylish boutiques and high-quality brand-name stores. And if the meeting schedule allows, work in a visit to the Rose Bowl Flea Market, which takes place on the second Sunday of every month. This huge, lively event draws visitors from around the world seeking antiques, furniture, and other items.

L.A. doesn't mind being judged by the company it keeps. Its neighboring cities and towns and nearby mountains and deserts all help define a region of unique variety. You can ski in the morning near Big Bear Lake and surf in the afternoon in the Beach Cities. Take a winding escape on the Angeles Crest Highway through the San Gabriel Mountains—those high-rises that form Downtown's dramatic natural backdrop. Or head east toward the low desert and hit Desert Hills Premium Outlets on the way to Palm Springs. Escape the heat on the Palm Springs Aerial Tramway, where a rotating tramcar delivers you to the cool slopes of Mount San Jacinto in just 10 minutes. You've probably heard of Disneyland Resort; the Magic Kingdom is just 45 minutes south of Downtown.

Interested in hosting your business event in one of the outlying counties? You have your pick of hotels, resorts, and venues in settings that are luxurious, quiet, and comfortable. Hotels range from boutique and historic properties to globally recognized hospitality brands. Resorts and conference centers provide all-inclusive lodging, meeting, and event facilities—with the bonus of spectacular Southern California sunshine and scenery.

Just 18 miles east of Downtown L.A., Pacific Palms Resort in the City of Industry is a 650-acre property set on a hilltop with 292 guest rooms, a golf course, a spa, a fitness center, a swimming pool, and 45,000 square feet of flexible event space, including 28 meeting rooms and the 12,000-square-foot Majestic Ballroom.

In Pomona, 29 miles east of the L.A. skyline, the 244-suite Sheraton Fairplex Hotel & Conference Center is situated on 543 acres of rolling farmland and houses 16 event rooms totaling 71,142 square feet, including the 33,000-square-foot Expo Hall.

About 38 miles northwest of L.A. proper, the 269 guest rooms at Four Seasons Hotel Westlake Village are surrounded by acres of botanical gardens and lulled by a gentle waterfall. The hotel's 189,731 square feet of event space accommodates groups of 10 to 1,000 with indoor banquet halls and ballrooms and outdoor gathering areas.

Consider the variety of outdoor activities that are available in Southern California, such as skiing and snowboarding at stunning winter resorts, water skiing on a lake in the summer, and sailing and body surfing in the ocean year-round.

Alternative venues include attractions like a world-famous theme park, an oceanic wonderland, or one of the top water parks in the country, all of which will delight families accompanying meeting attendees. The Fairplex offers an expansive facility located on 487 acres, including 325,000 square feet of indoor exhibit space, and it hosts the annual Los Angeles County Fair.

For entertainment, give your meeting guests a thrill with a zip-line canopy tour in the forest near the ski resorts of Wrightwood or a ride on the Palm Springs Aerial Tramway for a bird's-eye view from over 6,000 feet up.

Closer to earth, championship golf courses welcome pros and duffers alike, with staffs who are ready to host your next conference or event. For bargain hunters and shopping fanatics, outlet malls in the neighboring regions are a must-visit. Several top-notch centers located just outside L.A. offer hundreds of designer and brand-name stores. Group tours with special discounts are also available.

Shopping tops the list of activities when the meetings are over, and massive retail shopping centers offer great deals on the most sought-after brands. Citadel Outlets features more than 130 brand-name stores on 700,000 square feet offering 30 percent to 70 percent off retail prices, four office buildings, and foreign currency exchange. Groups can take advantage of VIP savings cards and an incentive program. Shop at Camarillo Premium Outlets for 160 premium brand outlets featuring 25 percent to 65 percent savings, as well as tour service with VIP coupons; numerous nearby hotels offer shop-and-stay packages. Ontario Mills features more than 200 premium-brand stores, a food court, an Improv comedy club and dinner theater, and a 30-screen AMC Theatres.

Neighboring regions feature many large and unique hotels, venues suited for meetings and events with specific needs, and attractions that offer terrific group activities as well as meeting and event spaces. Here are a few:

AN EVENT AT PARAMOUNT

Look to local planning pros to help make your event a reality.

Feeling overwhelmed at the prospect of making all the arrangements for your next big meeting? Allow local planning experts with knowledge and experience to take care of the details of your event so that you can concentrate on the big picture. With support from L.A. Tourism and input from regional experts, you can develop an easily executed plan that's perfectly suited to the needs of your clients. Partnering with the local businesses listed in this section—audiovisual companies, caterers, destination management companies (DMCs), event and show producers, florists, and team-building companies—will lay the groundwork for a successful event that stays within budget.

destination management companies

Need someone to represent your interests or secure the best prices with L.A. vendors? Check out L.A. Tourism's partner DMCs, and use them to apply their local connections and expertise to arrange every aspect of your event. DMCs can leverage their industry connections to set up a gourmet dinner catered by world-renowned companies such as Wolfgang Puck Catering, or arrange exotic floral displays and custom-designed settings that will make your clients feel like VIPs. DMCs can secure L.A.'s prime event venues. Whether you want a large banquet hall or a modern rooftop deck, they'll arrange for a space that sets just the right tone for your gathering.

Offering comprehensive experience in event design, supplier sourcing, entertainment contracting, and a host of other services, these companies can help make your dream event a reality.

convention, meeting, and event planners

If you're unfamiliar with the L.A. area—or are just very busy—convention, meeting, or event planners can help. They'll set up site inspections, select offsite venues, find speakers and presenters, and get your registration program up and running—and this is just the beginning of what they can do to make sure your event runs smoothly from start to finish. Offering a turnkey approach, local companies make a tremendous impact on your event—and your peace of mind.

local suppliers

If you're organizing an event that doesn't require full-service support and want to make the arrangements yourself, a directory of local businesses, including FedEx, Cutting Edge Productions, and exposition services company GES, will make your job much easier. Need an event producer? L.A. is home to some of the most savvy entertainment companies in the country, and they can easily help put a Hollywood spin on your production. Whether it's for a small board meeting or a major industry convention, getting the right suppliers is a major part of putting on a successful event.

As the fifth busiest airport in the world, Los Angeles International Airport continues to streamline the travel experience.

LOCATED APPROXIMATELY 16.5 MILES SOUTHWEST OF THE Los Angeles Convention Center, which is in the heart of Downtown, Los Angeles International Airport (LAX) is the most flexible of the city's transportation hubs. Named one of the Top 10 Most Improved Airports by Skytrax in 2018, LAX is the second busiest airport in the U.S. and the fifth busiest in the world. It operates nine terminals and is home to nearly every major domestic and international carrier. With 737 daily nonstop flights to 100 U.S. cities and 1,386 weekly nonstop flights to 88 cities in 44 countries on 74 commercial air carriers, LAX offers efficient and convenient air transit. And more Airbus A380 jets are available at LAX than at any other airport in the U.S.—a plus for those traveling in large groups.

Last spring, 28 airlines within LAX relocated their terminals and ticket counters. This seamless transition brought with it an easy-find coding system: The first digit of each double-digit gate number corresponds with its terminal number, and gates with three-digit numbers are located within the Tom Bradley International Terminal, Terminal B. For more information, visit flylax.com.

Another recent improvement was the unveiling of a connector linking Terminal 4 with the terminals on either side of it, Terminal 5 and Terminal B. The $148 million project was designed to reduce the walking distance between five domestic terminals on the south side of the airport and Terminal B on the western edge, expediting flight transfers and security screening for international passengers with checked luggage.

International travelers can take advantage of LAX's TSA PreCheck and United States Customs and Border Protection (CBP) Global Entry programs, making for shorter security lines. The Customs and Border Protection Mobile Passport app helps speed U.S. and Canadian citizens through the process. Terminals that have been overhauled with the business traveler in mind add comfort and ease. The multibillion-dollar LAX modernization program, which began in 2009, is set for completion in 2023. Both leisure and business travelers are already awarding accolades to upgraded dining, retail, terminals, and lounges. Free high-speed Wi-Fi, interactive kiosks, and mobile wayfinding apps put locations of gates,

For travelers looking for premium services in exchange for thousands of dollars extra, The Private Suite, located in an exclusive A-list terminal, offers a private security screening, attendants, and concierges to see to baggage, rental cars, and other details, and rides in a silver BMW sedan along the taxiway to departure gates.

Various forms of public transportation are available to and from LAX, including the nonstop FlyAway bus service, taxis, shuttles, and ride-share services. LAX also has a connection to the Los Angeles County Metropolitan Transportation Authority (Metro) system. The complimentary Green Line Shuttle/G bus runs between LAX's Central Terminal Area and Metro's Aviation/LAX Station.

For information about airline requirements for identification, carry-ons, and other security matters, visit the Transportation Security Administration website at tsa.gov; international travelers are encouraged to visit cbp.gov for requirements on items allowed inside the U.S.

HOLLYWOOD BURBANK AIRPORT (BUR)

In some cases, Hollywood Burbank Airport may be a convenient option. Located in the San Fernando Valley, BUR offers easy access to Pasadena, Glendale, and Universal City. A mere 15 miles northwest of Downtown L.A., two-terminal BUR is serviced by Alaska, American, Delta, JetBlue, Southwest, and United airlines.

Los Angeles provides plenty of ways to take people from place to place.

With lots of experience in the art of people moving, L.A. Tourism's transportation-business members can help ensure that your meeting participants get where they need to go. If you'd prefer to let the experts map out the details, a ground transportation management company can help you customize a plan that's perfect for your group. If you have a plan but need some wheels, reach out to one of our local charter companies. Fully licensed and insured, they'll provide the capacity you need when you need it. From public transportation and rental cars to chauffeur services and charter helicopters, the businesses featured in this section can provide everything you need to get your conference attendees from place to place during their stay.

Your group can easily travel among L.A.'s various regions via the efficient Metro mass transit network, now with rail service from Downtown to the beach—and beyond. Running until 2 a.m. on Saturday and Sunday, Metro offers a comprehensive network of bus, subway, and light-rail lines that transports an average of 1.3 million users on weekdays and 1.5 million on weekends to points throughout the city and county. Hot spots—including the sandy shores of Santa Monica, the Hollywood Walk of Fame, Exposition Park, and STAPLES Center—are mere steps away from stations.

Metro operates 165 bus routes serving almost 14,000 stops. Metro's orange Local buses stop about every two blocks; red Rapid buses stop only at major intersections. For example, lines 20/720 traverse Wilshire Boulevard and can take riders to LACMA, Museum Row, and Santa Monica Pier, while lines 2/302 go up and down Sunset Boulevard to serve places like the Sunset Strip and Sunset Junction.

red and purple lines

Metro's subway lines can take riders to Downtown attractions like The Museum of Contemporary Art, the Music Center, and Pershing Square, and connect them to other trains at L.A. Union Station. Branching out northwest from Downtown up to North Hollywood, the Red Line takes riders to Universal Studios Hollywood, Hollywood & Highland Center, the Hollywood Bowl, and the NoHo Arts District. From the North Hollywood station, take the Orange Line busway to stops throughout the southern San Fernando Valley. The Purple Line takes riders to mid-Wilshire in Central L.A., serving neighborhoods like Koreatown and attractions such as The Wilshire theater.

Thanks to its 2016 expansion, the Gold Line now links to five suburban cities that lie northeast of L.A. Running from East L.A. all the way to Azusa, the trains zip through 31 miles. Traveling from Downtown's historic Union Station to Old Town Pasadena or the Arboretum in Arcadia has never been easier.

The Expo line's 15 miles of light-rail bypass the notorious freeway gridlock between Downtown and the beach. The recent $1.5 billion extension to Santa Monica is the first rail transit to the far Westside since streetcars stopped in 1953. Now USC, Exposition Park, and the Santa Monica Pier are all a quick, easy ride away from one another.

Serving communities from Downtown southward to Long Beach, the Blue Line offers easy access to L.A. LIVE, STAPLES Center, Microsoft Theater, the Los Angeles Convention Center, the Watts Towers, and the Queen Mary.

ONE-WAY TRIP $1.75;
ONE-DAY PASS $7; seven-day pass $25.
Los Angeles Metropolitan Transportation

on track to L.A.

All aboard for the City of Angels via traffic-free ground transportation.

If you'd like to transport your guests to Los Angeles from another North American city without ever leaving the ground or sitting in traffic, consider sending them by train. Amtrak brings you to L.A.'s Union Station from any of more than 500 destinations in 46 states, the District of Columbia, and the Canadian provinces of British Columbia, Ontario, and Quebec.

The Pacific Surfliner connects San Diego, Oxnard, Santa Barbara, and San Luis Obispo with Los Angeles. En route daily between Seattle and Los Angeles, the Coast Starlight passes through Oregon, Sacramento, the San Francisco Bay Area, and Santa Barbara. The Southwest Chief runs daily between Chicago and Los Angeles, crossing through Arizona, New Mexico, Colorado, Kansas, Missouri, and Iowa.

Going coast-to-coast, the Sunset Limited travels between Louisiana and California along Amtrak's southernmost route.

Once your group is in Southern California, Metrolink regional passenger rail system can connect them to destinations in six counties surrounding L.A. via seven service lines and 55 stations along a 512-mile network of routes.

» METROLINKTRAINS.COM; 213.452.0200

other ways to go

LAX flyaway LAX FlyAway Buses (lawa.org/flyaway) offer regularly scheduled round-trip service from LAX terminals to Van Nuys, Union Station, Westwood, Hollywood, and Long Beach. Get tickets online; $8–$10 one-way.

big blue bus The eco-friendly, alternative-fuel-powered Big Blue Bus (bigbluebus.com) has routes through Santa Monica and Venice and connects them to LAX, Culver City, UCLA, and more.

ride-sharing companies Uber (uber.com) and Lyft (lyft.com) cars are plentiful throughout the L.A. area and provide an easy and efficient way to get around the city.

bike share systems

Getting around Downtown L.A. is as easy as hopping on one of 1,400 bikes supplied by Metro Bike Share (bikeshare.metro.net), managed by the L.A. Department of Transportation. The system is simple to use: Sign up for a Metro bike pass online and download the app (bikeshare.metro.net/app) or, for a single ride, visit a kiosk at one of 125 Metro stations. Bikes can be picked up and dropped off at any of the more than 65 stations in Downtown L.A.

For exploring the environs around West Hollywood or Santa Monica, the nationwide Bike Share Connect Network stands ready to hook riders up with a pair of wheels. The service is accessible by downloading the mobile app (app.socialbicycles.com/select_network), which connects to WeHo Pedals (wehopedals.com) in West Hollywood and Breeze Bike Share (breezebikeshare.com) in Santa Monica. Unlike the Metro system, WeHo Pedals and Breeze Bike Share are not dock-based and can be locked to any public rack, making returns, well, a breeze. Hulu's fleets of smart bikes are equipped with Wi-Fi technology and keypads that control locking and GPS functions.

Fees for L.A.'s bike-sharing services vary, but all are affordable and include per-minute, per-hour, per-day, and annual rates.
